Capgemini positioned as a leader in Everest Group's PEAK Matrix® for Next-generation Application Management Service Providers 2021

Paris, March 02, 2021 – Capgemini announced today that it has been named a leader in Everest Group's PEAK Matrix® for "Next-generation Application Management Service Providers 2021." The PEAK Matrix assessment analyzed the capabilities of 24 service providers, including Capgemini, based on its evaluation criteria of vision and capability along with market impact.

Everest Group noted Capgemini for the following strengths:

- Bringing its broad-based capabilities under an integrated ADMnext offering to drive better solutions and consistency in delivery for clients
- Willingness to deploy innovative commercial models for next-generation Application Management Services (AMS)
- Investment in hyper-automation through its Capgemini Intelligent Automation Platform \(CIAP\) and leveraging it across multiple engagements to demonstrate productivity gains
- Delivery of a strong learning and development program for AMS with its Capgemini University initiative; in addition, the Capgemini Research Institute pushes clients' thinking to transform their AMS landscape.

Clifton Menezes, the Group Offer Lead for ADMnext at Capgemini said, "To survive in today's chaotic digital marketplace, forward-thinking businesses are looking to their application services to help grow their business by creating the experiences their customers demand. Capgemini supports its clients by offering them disruptive, agile, transformative and business-focused application services to equip them with the ability to rapidly respond and adapt to change."

"Next-generation AMS is a philosophy to be efficient, lean, and agile to enable enterprises to drive self-funded transformation and build future-ready operating models," said Yugal Joshi, Vice President, Everest Group. "Capgemini has brought innovative commercial constructs to its AMS clients, and its IP and integrated offerings under ADMnext help it to drive value for clients, all of which have contributed to its positioning as a Leader in Everest Group's Next-generation Application Management Services PEAK Matrix Assessment 2021."

Capgemini's application management services are diversified to address end-to-end services for clients including business processes, applications, infrastructure, and operations, and is structured to enable clients' business growth in the new digital age.
