Capgemini Named a Leader among Global SAP® Services Providers By Independent Research Firm

Paris, April 17, 2014 – Capgemini, one of the world’s foremost providers of consulting, technology and outsourcing services, today announced that it has been placed in the Leaders category in an independent report about SAP® services providers, published in Q1 2014 by Forrester Research, Inc<sup>1</sup>.

According to the report, “Capgemini is a leader in the SAP services space due to breadth and depth of services and focus on innovation and digital transformation. Capgemini has a significant library of prebuilt IP, including SAP-certified and industry-specific solution (i.e., OnePath). Capgemini also has strong solutions for running SAP as a service, including its cloud orchestration management platform end to end (COMPLETE) cloud platform.”

Brad Little, Corporate Vice President, North America Services & Solutions Leader at Capgemini, said, “We are very happy to be positioned in the Leaders category by Forrester for our SAP-related services. We are also glad to be recognized for what we consider to be our significant investments in developing industry based intellectual property leveraging SAP technology, as well as the innovative way we deliver our solutions in the cloud via our OnePath offering. SAP-based solutions and services are an important part of Capgemini’s portfolio, and we look forward to continued growth in this market.”

Capgemini is a global provider of end-to-end services for SAP solutions. Capgemini has been able to demonstrate deep expertise in SAP solutions across industries. The company has pioneered new offerings and models such as the development of Extreme Applications for Retail, a prepackaged solution that features two modules by Capgemini that are powered by the SAP HANA® platform - Market Basket Analysis 1.0 and Next Best Action 1.0 - and the creation in collaboration with SAP of Capgemini’s Mobile Secure, a low-cost cloud-based solution to manage mobile devices, applications and content.
