Capgemini positioned as a Leader in Software Testing Services by NelsonHall

Paris, 17 December 2014 – Capgemini, one of the world’s foremost providers of consulting, technology and outsourcing services, has been positioned as a Leader in Transformation-Focused Testing Services in the first NelsonHall Vendor Evaluation and Assessment Tool (NEAT) evaluation for Software Testing.

Dominique Raviart, NelsonHall’s ITO Research Director, said: “NelsonHall assesses the testing services offerings available in the market on an ongoing basis. We look in particular at several features: the service portfolio, investment in automation and proprietary IPs, a consistent global delivery network with strong foothold offshore as well as domain knowledge and knowledge of applications being tested. With this in mind, Capgemini Group (Capgemini and Sogeti) has consistently ranked well in our assessments. Capgemini Group has a comprehensive and expanding testing service offering, and is investing in IPs including test case repositories and point tools. Presence in India is sizable and so is local presence, whether onsite or in factories. In addition, Sogeti is well-known for its sets of books and methodologies and is active in QA consulting”.

Govind Muthukrishnan, Senior Vice President and Testing Global Service Line Leader at Capgemini Group said: “We are delighted to be recognized as a Leader in Transformation-Focused Testing Services, and also positioned as a Leader for Client Efficiency Vendors and for Overall Software Testing Services by NelsonHall for our software testing capabilities. This is further testament to how we apply our deep domain knowledge and can leverage our global footprint across in-market local professional services, combined with nearshore and offshore testing centers of excellence to deliver QA Transformation through Managed Testing Services to our clients. This important market recognition shows how our comprehensive and industrialized software testing services are valued by our clients worldwide.”
