The Capgemini Group named a Leader in Software Testing by NelsonHall

Positioned as a Leader in Consultancy Focus and Transformation Focus market segments

Paris, July 26, 2016 - Capgemini, a global leader in consulting, technology and outsourcing services, today announced it has been positioned as a 'Leader' in the Overall NelsonHall Vendor Evaluation and Assessment Tool (NEAT) for Software Testing. The Capgemini Group, including its wholly-owned subsidiary Sogeti, has also been recognized as a leading player in NelsonHall's Consultancy Focus and Transformation Focus NEAT market segments.

The report highlighted the Group's specialized service portfolio and strengths in "QA and consulting, through its publications, "TMap and TPI<sup>1</sup>" along with the "IGATE acquisition" that has further strengthened Capgemini's Software Testing offerings and capabilities. NelsonHall's NEAT tool assessed 24 service providers this year through its evaluation criteria around the ability to deliver immediate benefit and ability to meet future client requirements.

Hans van Waayenburg, Member of the Group Executive Committee and Leader, Testing Global Service Line, Capgemini Group, said: "We are pleased to be recognized once again as a Leader for our Software Testing capabilities along with Consultancy and Transformation parameters by NelsonHall. The industry recognition is a testament to Capgemini and Sogeti's combined global focus, industrialized offerings and client satisfaction which have always been at the forefront of our business goals and objectives. With the widespread shift to digital, our focus is on providing integrated Quality Assurance and Testing services suited to meet the complex business challenges of our clients."

NelsonHall assessed software testing services vendors against 59 criteria, ranging from service portfolio depth, to richness of proprietary automation accelerators, thought leadership, and delivery engine (onshore, nearshore, and in India). Dominique Raviart, IT Services Practice Director, said "Capgemini Group has again been identified as a leader in software testing services. It has taken a systematic approach to proprietary accelerators, has invested in DevOps platforms, and has a comprehensive delivery network with a focus on providing an industrialized service."
