

WeKare Changemaker, Pawan Kumar Singh

Pawan has been working with Capgemini for three years as Voice and Accent soft skills trainer. He is an active WeKare volunteer. He is passionate about the CSR work because it gives him the opportunity to positively transform people's lives; support fulfilment of people's aspirations in the most difficult circumstances and ensures people feel happy and loved. Moreover, it allows him to build meaningful relationships. He enjoys contributing to CSR because he feels these actions make a difference in the society.

At personal level, he believes that we necessarily do not need a project to be associated with any social cause. He likes associating with those projects where he gets to touch people's lives and empower them like Daan Utsav (Joy of Giving Week); creating awareness about different social issues and strengthening the ties with our NGO partners. Pawan has been contributing to book drives where many volunteers from WeKare collect the first and second-hand books to set up libraries under Capgemini's School Adoption Program. One of the causes closest to his heart was Anna Daan Mahostav where along with other members, he donated dry ration like rice, wheat, sugar, pulses and various other items. A blood donation drive for the Indian army was also organized by them. His most favourite is the sapling plantation drive.

He has enjoyed his journey so far with many memorable moments, but he has one or two special ones to share. One of his best experiences was when he visited a Government school in NOIDA. He mentioned it was nice to see school kids getting excited and motivated to do better after the WeKare volunteers interacted with them.

He shares a beautiful message for his colleagues which is taught by his mother - "when you get, give; when you learn, teach". This is a truly motivating line for Pawan to give back to the society. There is a quote that says, "I am a human, nothing human can be more alien to be." Try to live your life in such a way that you can influence people's minds, thoughts and process.

Atul Kulshreshtha, Location Head for NCR and Gandhinagar appreciates his work by saying Pawan Singh is always approachable. He makes the WeKare events memorable to all the participants. His energy level is very high which motivates everyone to be part of WeKare / CSR initiatives.
