

SAP Application Migration to Microsoft Azure

Optimize SAP applications by migrating to Microsoft Azure

From financial departments, to sales and HR, organizations around the globe are looking to streamline processes and management within their business. SAP applications enable organizations everywhere to successfully, rapidly respond to shifts or changes, whether they're developmental bottlenecks, spikes in product demand, or other challenges. And as technologies evolve and market demands shift, organizations are faced with the need to further transform by moving these applications to the cloud.

By moving SAP applications to Microsoft Azure, organizations get the robust automation capabilities that SAP offers in combination with the benefits of the cloud, including better data security, scalability, and increased business and IT performance. As a trusted Microsoft partner, Capgemini has the expertise needed to optimize the migration of SAP apps to Azure.

Why Migrate SAP applications to Azure
