Capgemini positioned in “Leaders” Quadrant in Gartner’s Magic Quadrant For SAP Application Management Service Providers, Worldwide

Paris, 12 November 2014, Capgemini, one of the world’s foremost providers of consulting, technology and outsourcing services, today announced that it has been positioned as a leader by Gartner, Inc in the latest “Magic Quadrant for SAP Application Management Service Providers, Worldwide” ¹.

According to Gartner, “This Magic Quadrant evaluates 16 providers’ capabilities to supply SAP application management services.” This evaluation is based on their ‘ability to execute’ and ‘completeness of vision’.

Jerry Lacasia, Global SAP partner executive at Capgemini, said: “We are delighted to be evaluated by Gartner once again as a leader in SAP Application Management Service Provider. We believe this is testament to our integrated delivery framework and our investment in next-generation application management platforms including our SAP Industrialized Managed Service Center (IMSC), which provides real-time and on-demand insights on the state of service. Our main areas of focus are on aligning business processes with applications to help drive business outcomes and value, as well as providing continuous improvement and innovation to our clients year after year, both resulting in high customer satisfaction.”

Capgemini has over 14,500 SAP-skilled professionals, with nearly 40 per cent located in global delivery centers and more than 1,300 SAP services clients worldwide. Capgemini’s SAP application management business is across all major industries including consumer goods and retail, energy & utilities, manufacturing, public sector and financial services, working with companies of all sizes.
