Capgemini honored at the Informatica 2015 EMEA Partner Forum

Capgemini Italy has won the Next-Generation Analytics Award from Informatica for successfully supporting organizations in the process of business transformation

Paris, Milan, 16 July 2015 – Capgemini Italy, part of the Capgemini Group, one of the world's foremost providers of consulting, technology and outsourcing services announced that it has received the prestigious award for Next-Generation Analytics Data from Informatica, the world's number one independent provider of data integration software. The recognition was received by Capgemini Italy during Informatica's 2015 EMEA Partner Forum. The annual awards honor partners who have delivered innovative, business problem-solving solutions, leveraging Informatica products and technologies. In the category Next-Generation Analytics, the award recognizes support for companies in adopting systems that improve decision-making and growth with innovative, data-centric analytics solutions and access to fresh, accurate and complete data.

"We are honored to receive this important prize by Informatica with whom we've been cooperating for a long time on common goals and strategies in the data-centric analytics field. Together we offer the market and our customers innovative solutions that allow them to improve and transform their business through deep data analysis," says Daniele Napoleone, Offering Development Manager Insights & Data, Capgemini Italy. "The Next-Generation Analytics award honors and highlights the capabilities and expertise of Capgemini Italia in bringing the values and benefits of Informatica's analytics offerings to customers."

"This year's EMEA Partner Forum Award celebrates Informatica partners who clearly understand the role data plays in making organizations cloud, decision and customer ready," said Eric Kroon, Senior Director Alliances EMEA, Informatica. "Our partners play a key role in our continued success and leadership, helping us enable customers to put data at the centre of everything they do."
