

SAP S/4HANA on the AWS Cloud, Powered by Intel

Reimagine your business at cloud speed

Accelerated innovation cycles. Increasingly demanding customers. Ongoing business model disruption. Imperatives to cut costs through automation and innovation. Companies everywhere need to digitally transform and build a foundation for agility, innovation, and growth.

SAP® S/4HANA helps companies move into the digital age. Cloud-ready and built on the power to readily access data and information with SAP® leading in-memory computing platform, SAP S/4HANA enables organizations to keep up with the ever-accelerating pace of business and harness the power of digital to get – and stay – ahead. SAP S/4HANA offers nearly endless opportunities for business advancement, but taking full advantage of its potential requires careful planning and coordination.

Building a digital core with SAP S/4HANA

Capgemini can help you transform your company into a digital business with SAP S/4HANA. Our Highway to SAP S/4HANA services ensures a swift and painless move from older-generation SAP® systems to S/4HANA. Designed to help you get to SAP S/4HANA faster – and with optimal results—Highway to SAP S/4HANA includes a complete range of modular SAP S/4HANA services built on deep experience and real-world success, including strategy, transformation services, optimization services, and real-time analytics. Our accelerators and pre-defined scenarios drastically reduce costs and time spent adopting SAP S/4HANA.

Amplifying the benefits with the AWS Cloud

Capgemini helps amplify the benefits of SAP S/4HANA even further by leveraging the power of the AWS Cloud. We architect, build, and run your SAP S/4HANA environment on the AWS Cloud, ensuring seamless, low-risk implementation – and long-term value for your business. We draw on our end-to-end suite of cloud services to help you make your infrastructure invisible, deliver apps at the pace of innovation, embrace Monday's idea as Friday's reality – and accelerate your business to the speed of cloud.

Taking it to the next level

Once you've implemented SAP S/4HANA on AWS, we help you leverage it to continuously grow and adapt, create new sources of business value, and outpace the competition. We work with you to take advantage of DevOps, APIs, and microservices to accelerate innovation and harness the power of breakthrough technologies. In partnership with AWS, we ensure that you have instant and on-demand access to higher-level services like machine learning, data lakes, and IoT that help you make the most of SAP S/4HANA.

Powered by Intel

Capgemini has teamed up with Intel to incorporate its Intel® Optane™ DC persistent memory for SAP S/4HANA into Capgemini's Industry Path solutions. Intel's persistent memory technology helps extract more value from larger data sets than was previously possible, scales service delivery, and supports our customers with compelling total-cost-of ownership and quality-of-service levels.

Capgemini solutions and Intel technologies together enable our customers to make the transition to SAP S/4HANA smoother, easier, and more cost efficient while improving their ROI. We do this through the adoption of our combined offerings, complete packaged tool set, reusable content, preconfigured scenarios, and POVs developed with our deep understanding of SAP interfacing products. Customers moving to SAP S/4HANA realize a quicker return on investment when they leverage Capgemini Path solutions optimized with Intel® Optane™ DC persistent memory. The combination reduces the overall cost of operations through efficient processes, integration, and lower infrastructure cost.

Partnering for your success

Organizations around the world have benefited from our expertise to streamline their processes, unlock their digital value, and empower their people. We can help you do the same with SAP S/4HANA, AWS, and Intel. Our extensive experience in SAP cloud migrations and greenfield deployments as well as our deep functional and industry knowledge mean we can bring you the best solution for your needs. Strong partnerships with SAP, Intel, and AWS ensure that you have coordinated, seamless support.

Additionally, when you work with Capgemini, you get the benefit of working with the experts in cloud transformation. We bring one of the largest teams of professionally certified digital and cloud experts and cloud-native developers and are consistently recognized by Gartner and Forrester for our capabilities and vision.
