Capgemini Group appoints Philippe Christelle as Chief Ethics & Compliance Officer

Paris, 14 October 2015 – Capgemini, one of the world's foremost providers of consulting, technology and outsourcing services, today announced the appointment of Philippe Christelle as Chief Ethics & Compliance Officer (CECO) of the Capgemini Group, an addition to his role as Capgemini's Chief Audit Officer (CAO). He replaces Hervé Canneva who recently retired. Philippe will drive the implementation, development and promotion of Capgemini's Ethics & Compliance program.

"Philippe has been entrusted with the responsibility to maintain and reinforce Capgemini's standing as one of the world's most ethical companies. I am certain that his extensive industry experience will be an asset to further globalize our Ethics and Compliance framework," said Paul Hermelin, Group Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Capgemini.

Biography of Philippe Christelle:

Philippe Christelle has been the Chief Audit Officer of Capgemini Group since 1999. A former partner at PwC, Philippe was a member of the National Activity Review Committee (Comité d'Examen National d'Activité or CENA) and the Committee for Ethics of CNCC (Compagnie Nationale des Commissaires aux Comptes: the French national auditing body). Philippe chaired the Institut Français de l'Audit et du Contrôle Interne (IFACI), the French chapter of the Institute of Internal Auditors (IIA), between 2003 and 2006, and the European Confederation of Internal Auditors (ECIIA) between 2003 and 2004. Since 2009, Philippe has been a member of the board of the Haut Conseil du Commissariat aux Comptes (H3C), the French public authority charged with supervising the audit profession, successively chairing the Committee on Quality Controls and the Committee on International Affairs.

Philippe is a chartered accountant, and a graduate of Sciences-Po Paris and IAE Paris. He also holds a Masters degree in Philosophy from the Sorbonne. Since 1990 he has been a lecturer at Sciences-Po Paris, l'Ecole Normale Supérieure and at l'Université Paris Dauphine.
