Capgemini positioned as a Leader in Next-Generation Oracle Services Providers 2016 Report by Independent Research Firm

Paris, 20 October 2016 - Capgemini, a global leader in consulting, technology and outsourcing services, today announced it has been named a 'Leader' in the Independent report: The Forrester Wave™: Services Providers For Next-Generation Oracle Application Projects, Q3 2016.

Capgemini was cited a 'Leader' of Oracle service providers; evaluated criteria such as its strategy, current offering and market presence. According to the report, Capgemini was acknowledged as "a leading, global provider of the full spectrum of Oracle applications services – from design to consult to implement to maintain." Capgemini was also cited for having "made early investments in industry-specific cloud solutions."

Salil Parekh, Member of the Group Executive Board and Oracle Global Executive Sponsor at Capgemini said: "We are delighted to be named a Leader in the Forrester Wave report for our Oracle services capabilities. We believe this recognition is truly a testament to our longstanding relationship with Oracle and our commitment to offer best-in-class services to our clients globally. Capgemini's ability to offer Oracle's full portfolio of application services means we are able to both advise clients on strategic direction as well as implement and manage the right solutions to meet their business challenges of today and tomorrow."

Capgemini has more than 14,800 Oracle technologists worldwide providing a strategic direction to its customers in order to optimally leverage Oracle's portfolio of solutions. With more than 5000 successful implementations of Oracle applications across the globe covering all the industry sectors, Capgemini is well equipped to enable customers maximize their business value with Oracle's offerings.
