Capgemini Group Named a Top 25 Technology Provider by American Banker and Financial Insights

-- FinTech 25 recognizes largest, global enterprise technology companies --

New York, December 1, 2008 – Capgemini Group, one of the world's foremost providers of consulting, technology and outsourcing services, was ranked in the FinTech 25, a special report from American Banker and Financial Insights.

“It is a great honor to be included the FinTech 25—as it clearly reflects our commitment to being a global financial services provider with solutions that lead across various sectors,” said Raymond Spencer, CEO of Capgemini Financial Services International Inc. “This recognition for the fourth year in a row reinforces Capgemini’s staying power as a highly competitive, leading consultancy in the financial services industry.”

The FinTech 25 recognizes the top horizontal technology firms that provide products and services across multiple industries but derive less than one-third of their revenues from this vertical.

Capgemini is ranked 17th on the list of financial technology companies that were judged according to their global revenues – attesting to the company’s growth, stability and importance to the industry. Since Capgemini’s acquisition of Kanbay International Inc. in 2007 (formerly ranked #38 on the FinTech 100), the newly formed Financial Services Strategic Business Unit (SBU) has grown and integrated its operations in India, Europe, North America and Asia-Pacific.
