Capgemini UK reaches outstanding new agreement with HM Government

Paris, London, 13th September 2010 - Today Capgemini UK plc (“Capgemini”) signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the Cabinet Office which builds on its outstanding track record of engagement and delivery to HMG. All existing contracts remain and continue to be delivered as planned. Capgemini has also presented a range of new business opportunities to enable the commitment of savings to HMG.

In addition, Capgemini has also put together an extensive menu of new innovative proposals, which would further improve the efficiency of HMG.

Paul Hermelin, Capgemini CEO, said: “I am pleased to have agreed this MOU with Francis Maude, Minister for the Cabinet Office. This signing continues our transformational journey with HM Government and enables us to bring the full capability of the Capgemini Group for the benefit of the UK Public Sector. I look forward to working together over the coming months and years to help the UK Government achieve their wider reforms”.

Pierre-Yves Cros, Capgemini’s UK Country Board Chairman, said: “Capgemini has responded to the request to help Government meet their short term challenge and we have also put forward cross-government solutions, which will help achieve an efficient joined-up government in future”.
