Capgemini and Dutch retail group Maxeda sign €44 million IT services contract extension

Paris, France; Utrecht, the Netherlands, April 29, 2010 – Capgemini, one of the world’s foremost providers of consulting, technology and outsourcing services, today announced that one of its Dutch subsidiaries, Capgemini Outsourcing B.V. (“Capgemini”), has signed a two-year contract extension worth €44 million with Maxeda to run until 2015. Maxeda is the largest Dutch non-food retailer in the Netherlands.

The original deal was a five-year contract between Capgemini and Maxeda signed on 14 December 2007. The extension will involve 170 FTEs and see a major part of the Application Outsourcing and Infrastructure Outsourcing services delivered from Indian centres located in Kolkata and Mumbai in addition to Amsterdam in the Netherlands, leveraging Capgemini’s Rightshore® global delivery model. This contract extension would help Maxeda to reduce its Total Cost of Ownership by 10 percent. Moreover, Capgemini will provide Maxeda with an innovative and flexible cloud-based platform for SAP Applications.

Speaking on the benefits of the deal, Jens Burgers, CIO Maxeda, said: “Together with the team at Capgemini, we have certainly reached a new milestone with the extension of this contract. This is a result of hard work, an increasingly sustainable relationship, and a definite belief that teamwork will result in a win/win situation for us both. The deal will also significantly reduce our TCO”

Peter Croes, Managing Director of Capgemini Outsourcing B.V., said: “Our retail knowledge, our innovation capabilities combined with the fact that we previously managed to realize a return on investment of €2 million within a year, created a solid basis to take Maxeda to the next level of our service delivery.”
