Capgemini positioned in the Winners Circle by HfS Research Blueprint Report for Finance & Accounting-as-a-Service

Paris, November 20 2017 – Capgemini, today announced it has been placed in the Winners Circle in the 2017 HfS Blueprint Report: Finance & Accounting-as-a-Service. HfS evaluated 19 service providers under the innovation and execution criteria where Capgemini's ¹Finance-as-a-stack service was acknowledged which now includes support for centralizing and supporting ²FP&A and controllership.

Capgemini's portfolio of Finance and Accounting offerings were recognized for being platform-based and designed to match the culture and approach of its clients to help them achieve "virtual F&A." Capgemini was also noted for its progress in defining a more clear and collaborative approach to incorporating robotic and cognitive automation into finance with its clients.

Aruna Jayanthi, Head of Business Services, and Member of the Group Executive Committee at Capgemini said: "We are delighted to be placed in the Winners Circle for our ability to deliver world-class Finance and Accounting services to our clients globally. Capgemini's wide range of F&A offers incorporate a unique blend of innovation powered by intelligent automation to meet the complex challenges posed by the evolving business environment."

Capgemini has an established track record of being one the leading F&A service providers and in supporting the transformation journey of clients worldwide. Capgemini's Finance-as-a-Stack offer combines leading BPO-as-a-Service (BPaaS) assets and expertise in applications, infrastructure and consulting, all of which contribute to increase business efficiency and optimize processes for competitive edge in the market.
